

What You Get For Our Fees ...

In order to compare apples to apples when assessing fees we would like to list all that you, our client, will receive as a part of the fees you will pay for our services.

- ✓ An "A" Players Only! Predictive Index benchmark study of your top performers designed to give us insight into what makes your best tick. This is great background information to prepare us for your program. At the end you will receive the results of this study as an Executive De-brief and can use it as a tool moving forward.
- ✓ Needs assessment – our extensive pre-program survey, research relevant to understanding the audience and the environment in which they will apply what we teach, interviews with any and every contact you give us who has valuable insights or an interest in the outcomes of the program.
- ✓ Custom program design based on the needs assessment and your input regarding desired outcomes.
- ✓ Pre-program campaign designed to promote the learning opportunity and giving the attendees some to-do's that will set the stage for greater comprehension and application.
- ✓ Program delivery in an interactive and dynamic style that they will rave about. They will also walk away with real world skills and attitudes that will equip them to get the results you desire. This also includes the design of the course materials they will use as a resource for a long time to come.

- ✓ A wide variety of support and promotional materials and ideas to re-enforce the message we deliver!
- ✓ A post program campaign to reinforce their learning experience, measure their comprehension and application of skills taught, exercises that will further grow their comprehension of the materials and lists of additional resources they can use to continue to grow.
- ✓ A one-hour teleconference 60 to 90 days after the program to re-enforce the ideas strategies we share as well as open up new ones.
- ✓ A real world process for measuring results against desired outcomes.
- ✓ An executive debriefing process and report that will cover what we as trainers and consultants learned during the project from start to finish.
- ✓ Results, results, results!
